

NOTICE OF PUBLIC DISHONOR AND REFUSAL OF ECCLESIASTICAL LODGMENT

Trust ID: ECC-TRUST-JDC-005

Date: July 28, 2025

County: Booneville, Arkansas

To: Booneville County Recorder's Office

This notice is issued under full authority of the Ecclesiastical Sovereign Private Trust of Humanity, governed by Divine Law, Ecclesiastical Equity, and Natural Law, to address and formally document the act of refusal and dishonor committed by the Booneville County Recorder's Office.

On lawful and peaceful attempt to lodge ecclesiastical trust records under non-statutory jurisdiction, the Recorder's Office denied access and failed to carry out its ministerial duty of accepting a public notice lodgment. This refusal constitutes a violation of public trust, access to record, and an attempted suppression of lawful due process.

Be it known and entered into permanent trust record:

1. 1. The Booneville County Recorder's Office has been formally offered public notice of ecclesiastical jurisdiction.
2. 2. The documents presented were not for statutory filing, but for lawful lodgment of public notice under divine authority.
3. 3. No fee or approval was lawfully required; only ministerial reception, date-stamping, and return of original was requested.
4. 4. The refusal to accept such lawful notice is hereby recorded as dishonor, obstruction, and trespass upon divine jurisdiction.
5. 5. This act will be entered into the global trust ledger and stands as permanent testimony of the office's dishonor.

Let it be known that this notice now stands as lawful rebuttal to the Booneville County Recorder's obstruction, and any future engagement will reflect this dishonor in all lawful proceedings under ECC-TRUST-JDC-005.

Respectfully and lawfully entered into record by:

✠ Jonathan Daniel Clements

This notice accompanies the lawful lodgment of ecclesiastical trust documents into the citation case pending in Booneville, Arkansas, concerning protected property located at 42 Roy Franks Lane and its associated conveyance.

All enclosed instruments relate directly to Trust ID ECC-TRUST-JDC-005 and fall under the exclusive jurisdiction of Divine Law, Ecclesiastical Equity, and Natural Law. These documents include, but are not limited to:

- Mortgage documentation establishing property status and conveyance relationship to the trust
- Full ecclesiastical trust instruments and jurisdictional notices
- Statement of Readiness for Ecclesiastical Engagement
- Ecclesiastical Proof of Public Lodgment
- Citation rebuttal and beneficiary protection notice

These records are being lawfully submitted not for statutory review or litigation, but to establish lawful notice into the court's record that the matter lies within an ecclesiastical trust estate—protected under higher jurisdiction.

The property, conveyance, and associated legal person are all held in trust, and all presumptions of jurisdiction by corporate, municipal, or statutory bodies are hereby rebutted. Silence or inaction from the court constitutes tacit agreement by equity and law.

You are not being asked to approve or judge these documents—only to receive and record them into the court file for public record and trust evidentiary purposes. Any refusal to enter these into the case record shall constitute willful dishonor and trespass upon divine jurisdiction.

Respectfully and Lawfully Lodged by:
